  - The Tasmanian Government has announced support for temporary visa holders.
  - There are three types of assistance available to temporary visa holders:
    - Pandemic Isolation Assistance Grants will be made available for those who can demonstrate genuine financial hardship as a result of the coronavirus pandemic. The grant amount depends on the size of your household: ($250 per adult / $125 per child - Maximum capped at $1000 per household). To access the Pandemic Isolation Assistance Grant or to register your interest in support to return to your country of origin, call the Public Health Hotline on 1800 671 738.
    - Emergency relief and assistance will be provided through partnered non-government organisations where required. Details of this support and how to access it will be provided on the Government website when available.
    - Rapid Response Skills Initiative: Migrants nominated under the Skilled Migration Program are also eligible for the Rapid Response Skills Initiative. This provides funding of up to $3 000 to assist towards the cost of training for people who have lost their jobs because they have been made redundant, the place they worked has closed, or the employer had to let staff go. The Rapid Response Skills Matching Service will assess the skills of displaced workers and match them to businesses who need new, work-ready employees.
    - The Department of Education recognises the financial hardship being faced by temporary residents as valued members of our community. In response, all Temporary Residents with children studying in Tasmanian Government Schools will be offered a 25 per cent discount on tuition fees in Term 2 and Term 3.
    - Support to return to their country of origin. The nature of support will be determined once we have a clear picture of who needs help and where they are going. Anyone wanting assistance to return to their country of origin was required to register their interest by 5.00pm, 23 May 2020. Applications are currently being considered and individual applicants will be contacted as these are assessed.
    - The Temporary Visa Holder Skilled Employee Assistance Program is specifically designed to assist skilled temporary visa holders to maintain a connection with their employers during COVID-19. ### Health and Medical Care

- Tasmania Public Health Hotline: 1 800 671 738

- What if I’m from overseas and I’m not eligible for Medicare:
Overseas travellers who get sick in Australia (and are not eligible for Medicare) often have health or travel insurance. For those who do not have adequate insurance coverage, Tasmanian hospitals will waive the costs of treatment and testing for COVID-19. This includes waiving payment and debt recovery procedures for ambulance transfers of people suspected to have coronavirus, who are taken to Tasmanian hospitals for assessment. These arrangements have been put in place to ensure payment issues are not a barrier for people from overseas with symptoms of COVID-19 seeking early medical advice.

- The Refugee Health Guide includes Refugee Health Programs staffed by refugee nurses, doctors and other specialists that operate nationally - providing specialised mental and primary health care and service coordination to refugees and people seeking asylum. These services are familiar with working with people on uncertain immigration pathways and fluctuating Medicare status. Information on referral pathways in Tasmania can be found here. Services are defined differently in each state and territory, so look for headings such as ‘Refugee Health Program/ Service’, ‘Immigrant Health Clinic’ or ‘Community Health Service’.

- Reciprocal Health Care Agreements: Agreements with 11 countries that covers the cost of medically necessary care when Australians visit certain countries and visitors from these countries visit Australia. Those visiting Australia from the following countries may be eligible for medical care under Medicare while in Australia, information for each country is available here.

- Temporary Visa Categories Covered by Ministerial Orders (eligible for Medicare).

Employment & Work Rights

All workers in Australia have the same rights and protections at work, regardless of citizenship or visa status. Your employer must comply with Australian workplace and immigration laws, including their obligation to:

- pay you the right pay rate for all time worked
- provide a safe workplace.
- For information on working in Australia visit the Home Affairs website.

The Fair Work Ombudsman provides education, assistance, advice and guidance to employers and employees, and can inquire into and investigate breaches of the Fair Work Act.

Information for the LGBTQI+ community

- Information on health and counselling services, social groups, legal support, multicultural specific services, and other services can be found on this national LGBTQI+ directory.

Information for International Students in Tasmania

Five visa changes will ensure international students are not worse off due to the coronavirus pandemic and that Australia remains competitive with other countries.

- The Government will recommence granting student visas in all locations lodged outside Australia. This means when borders re-open, students will already have visas and be able to make arrangements to travel.
International students will be able to lodge a further student visa application free of charge, if they are unable to complete their studies within their original visa validity due to COVID-19.

Student visa holders studying online outside Australia due to COVID-19 will be able to use that study to count towards the Australian study requirement for a post-study work visa.

Graduates who held a student visa will be eligible to apply for a post-study work visa outside Australia if they are unable to return due to COVID-19.

Additional time will be given for applicants to provide English language results where COVID-19 has disrupted access to these services.
