

Become a Red Cross member and Champion Humanity

the power of humanity

What does membership mean?

Membership means supporting the world's largest humanitarian organisation, helping alleviate human suffering without discrimination, strengthening both Red Cross and the wider community, and acting locally to support a global movement.

Why does membership matter?

As a member, you drive our humanitarian action and help us engage with the community. Each new member strengthens Red Cross by extending our community footprint. You increase our reach by advocating for us in your own networks, and amplify our voice by spreading the Red Cross humanitarian message.

Why is Red Cross unique?

Red Cross is unique because we are there for people in need, regardless of nationality, race, religious belief, class or political opinion. We are impartial, neutral and independent, and we respond to crises large and small, from major disasters to personal emergencies in Australia and further afield.

How can you help?

Champion our work in your local communities by engaging in our campaigns.

Support us online by following our social media feeds and sharing our stories and values with your networks.

Access national and international training as a member of the Red Cross Movement.

Join a group (or start your own) to meet with like minded people, attend local community events, plan events, learn and socialise.

Volunteer in your local area or with one of the many programs Red Cross runs around Australia.

Raise money for our vital work with friends, family or colleagues by joining our campaigns or getting together for a fun event.

Shape our organisation by having a say in the future of Red Cross and how it is run.
